Award Options

Alternately, there are options to choose a student at random (mystery student), or award multiple students.

Useful Data Reports For Parents And Students

Class Dojo also keeps reports of the positive and negative behaviors exhibited. Charts may be displayed for the class as a whole or for each individual student. Furthermore, students may be given a login code so they can monitor their own behavior from a home computer. Also, there are options to have Class Dojo automatically email weekly behavior reports to the parents of each student.
